

SILVER ANNIVERSARY:

Alchemy Of Love

By Wayne Visser

On this, thine twenty fifth celebration of union in marriage,
Know ye that there is no greater love
Than the love which binds thine hearts this day

For, liken unto the alchemists of old time,
Thou hast taken that which was basic
And from it fashioned that which is precious -
Silver

Now, before ye lies the sacred task
Of taking that which is precious
And from it fashioning that which is divine -
Gold

And in this, thou noble quest,
Ever the same will be thine secret of success:
A dedication to true love
For it is only true love
Which transforms and illumines the way to greater life
