

THE TUNNEL

By Wayne Visser

Every tunnel has its ending
Every aperture its light
Every rainbow arch that's bending
Shows that you can win the fight

And though the tunnel may be black
And hardship cannot be denied
Keep moving forward, never back
And you will reach the other side

And as you sojourn in the dark
You have a secret light, it's true:
On every journey you embark
Your loved ones always ride with you
