Breaking Things Up

What should I break up then? said Jordan.

Where you are.

Oh, we're back to that?

We never left.

Ok. How can I break up where I am?

Start with what you already know.

I know that I'm standing in a cloud.

Good. Now break it up.

How?

Start with what you know. How many things do you know?

Umm. Two.

And they are?

One, I'm standing. And two, I'm in a cloud.

Good. Now pick one.

Ok, I'm standing.

What do you mean by 'standing'?

On my feet, of course!

Oh, so you have feet?

Yes I do!

Good. You didn't seem to notice before. Tell me more.

About my feet?

Sure, why not. Do you notice anything about them?

Like what?

You tell me.

Well, they are size 3. Oh, and I'm wearing shoes. My skateboard shoes.

Now we're getting somewhere! And somewhere is always better than nowhere.
