

CHOCOLATE SEDUCTION

By Wayne Visser

Mouth-wateringly tempting ...
When I peel back the wrap on your cocoa skin
And inhale the heady lasso of your scent

Tongue-twistingly scrumptious ...
As I close licked lips around your umber blush
And imbibe the creamy nectar of your bud

Lip-smearingly luscious ...
When I suck the seed of your melting virtue
And swallow the decadent spice of your kiss

Toe-tinglingly piquant ...
As I ride on the swell of your peptic tide
And frolic in the sugar-rush surf of your zest

Heart-meltingly blissful ...
When I cradle the curve of your honeyed breath
And repose in the aftertaste of your sigh
